HALLUCINATIONS CAUSE OF WIFE MURDER

Joseph Salerno Believed Friends Were Attempting to Harm Him.

Plainville, Conn., Oct. 26.—That Joseph Salerno, who murdered his wife yesterday, was suffering from hallucinations, was the opinion of a physician who examined the body of the victim after the murder. Salerno is now in the New Britain general hospital, where he is being treated for his mental condition. He is believed to be a native of Italy and has been in the United States for some time. His wife, Mary, was found dead in their home in Plainville, Conn., on Thursday night.

The authorities are making little effort to work up any evidence against Salerno as they are satisfied he was insane at the time of the tragedy. He is being closely watched at the New Britain hospital for fear he might make another attempt to take his own life. He appears to be improved today.

The body of Mary Salerno, who was killed by her husband, is being buried at the former home of the Salerno family in Old Forge, Pa. It was taken to that place by a private funeral home.

None of the relatives could furnish a clue concerning Salerno's motive in attacking his wife as they believed the couple to be happy. Friends say he was dependent for several days preceding the crime but they attributed his state of mind to unemployment, rather than to any domestic disturbance.

Waterbury.—Work on a new brick barn for the Connecticut Co. on the site of the present barn will be commenced in the spring.

ISBELL TO BE COLONEL OF SECOND INFANTRY

Election Jumps Him Over Head of Lieut.-Col. Tillson.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 26.—The homecoming of the Second Connecticut Infantry, which reached New Haven from Nogales today, was accompanied by a surprise party in the announcement of the election of Major Ernest L. Isbell to be colonel. The surprise lay in the fact that this election jumps Major Isbell over the head of Lieut.-Col. John Q. Tillson, who has been in command of the regiment since the recent resignation of Col. Charles F. McCabe. Col. Tillson is the member of congress from the Third Connecticut district.

The vote of the regiment's officers stood, Major Isbell 35; Lieut. Col. Tillson 14; blank 2.

To fill the majority vacated by the election of Major Isbell to the colonelcy, Capt. Daniel W. Lanouette of Company K, Killingford, was elected by a small margin over Robert C. Hannegan of Company H, Waterbury. Both Lieut. Col. Tillson and Major Isbell are officers of long service.

New Hartford.—The body of Carl Strakos, the eminent opera manager, was placed in the Immaculate Conception church in New Hartford Wednesday morning, where it lay in state from 12 o'clock. The funeral was Thursday morning at 11 o'clock with solemn high mass of requiem.

DANIELSON

Goodyear Cotton Company, a $5,000,000 Corporation, Files Certificate of Incorporation—Private Carl Anderson Home from Nogales—Death of Mrs. Johanna O'Brien at 101—Carnegie Aided Fund for Methodist Church Organ.

A certificate of incorporation of the Goodyear Cotton Company, Inc., of Killingly, a five million dollar corporation, was filed Thursday with the secretary of state at Hartford. The incorporators are given as Francis Seiberling of Akron, O., F. E. Miller of Dayville and Harold B. Hutchins of Danielson. Mr. Seiberling is one of the officials of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, one of the greatest concerns of its kind in the world. The new corporation will succeed the Killingly Manufacturing company, a Massachusetts corporation, which is operating the big mill at Williamsville, this plant being controlled by interests closely allied and identified with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company.

The incorporation of the new company follows close upon the announcement that a decision had been reached to build another big mill at Williamsville and 100 houses in the village, where engineers are now at work making surveys, including routes for railroad and trolley lines from the tracks in and about Dayville.

While the capital of the new concern is to be $5,000,000, only half the authorized amount is to be issued now. Of this half, $1,000,000 will be common stock and $1,500,000 preferred. Organization of the company will take place immediately.

Big Expansion of Industry. Details of the company's plans were not available Thursday, but assurance that have been made recently indicate a surprising expansion of the already big industry at Williamsville.

Recent announcements that the monster Akron plant is to construct 5,000,000 automobile tires during 1917 means that there will be an enormous demand upon the Williamsville plant for the fabric that enters into the making of the tires. The mill there does not produce the fabric, but the fabric necessary to meet the wants of the parent plant, so the expansion now planned for is probably but the forerunner of still greater growth, and Killingly seems assured of becoming within the next 12 months the fastest growing town in the western section of the state. This prediction of rapid growth is not based exclusively on prospects at Williamsville, brilliant as those are, for there are other interests in town figuring on expansion that is almost certain to come and bring with it the people, the homes and the money to make this a town about which its residents will be pleased to talk.

HOME FROM THE BORDER.

Private Carl Anderson Concludes Four Months' Service at Nogales.

Private Carl Anderson, Company K, First Connecticut Infantry, Hartford, is home again after four months of service at Nogales, Ariz. Private Anderson is glad to be back in little old Connecticut and of the opportunity to mingle with its people. He is enthusiastic over his experiences on the border as far as army life is concerned, but he has no desire to return for the type of Mexican life that was his privilege to see and deal with while he was in the northern edge of Sonora. His opinion is that troops must be kept on patrol duty for a long time, but the Mexican question is far from settled.

Private Anderson, who has been a top sergeant in the local military company, stood 85 inches high, and a veteran, went out with the first artillery corps didn't get a chance to go to the front. In other words, he went because he likes the game and doesn't hesitate to take the chances that go with it. He is a born soldier and has a record of being one of the most efficient non-commissioned officers in the state. However, he went to the border as a private.

He is home in splendid physical condition and is a very happy man. He was not in the nature of a holiday, but he was put through a course of training that hardened them to the better for it, Mr. Anderson says.

Experiences after setting down to work on the border were no more than routine, he says but he enjoyed his stay and comes back with a lot of home pleasures.
